

DRAWERS OF WATER

'Drawers of Water' conceals a waterfall inside a tower of drawers. Intermittently and unexpectedly, water overflows down the stepped drawers of this outsized Victorian furniture cabinet.

The artwork combines the charm of mechanics with the intrigue of an everyday object given extraordinary function. Whimsical and poetic, mercurial nature momentarily erupts from the depths of domestic solidity.

Artist
Jennifer Turpin

Date
1995

Description
Kinetic water sculpture, 3.6 metres high

Materials
Marine timber, brass, water

Location
The Children's Hospital, Westmead Sydney

Client
The Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children